

Javier Miranzo-Díaz, PhD in Law and Lecturer in Administrative Law in the University of Castilla-La Mancha. He previously has been professor of Administrative law in the University of Granada (2019/2020) and the Open University of Catalunya (2020/2021) From 2015 to 2019 I developed my doctoral thesis at the University of Castilla-La Mancha. He has carried out research research stays at the University of Hull, at the University Institute in Florence, and at the University of Oxford. He has given more than 70 conferences at national and international scientific events in more than 9 countries. He has currently published currently have 4 books, 25 research articles and 23 book chapters in the field of public procurement, integrity, transparency environmental law and digital administrative law. He is part of a European project, 2 national projects, and I have been IP of two regional projects, in Castilla-La Mancha and Catalonia, all of them related to public procurement, transparency, and digitalization. He also occasionally works as an international consultant in public procurement for the multinational NTTData (sixth IT services company in the world) in Projects for the EU and the EBRD.

Agustí Cerrillo-i-Martínez holds a PhD in Law and a Degree in Law and in Political Sciences. He is Full Professor of Administrative Law at Universitat Oberta de Catalunya (Spain). Some of his most recent publications include Casadesús de Mingo, A., & Cerrillo i Martínez, A. (2018). Improving records management to promote transparency and prevent corruption. International Journal of Information Management, 38(1); Cerrillo i Martínez, A., & Ponce Solé, J. (Eds.). Preventing corruption and promoting good government and public integrity. Bruxelles: Bruylant (2017); Cerrillo i Martínez, A. Beyond Revolving Doors: The Prevention of Conflicts of Interests Through Regulation. Public Integrity (2017).

Ramon Galindo-Caldés is associate Professor of Administrative Law at the Universitat Oberta de Catalunya and part-time professor of Administrative Law at the University of Barcelona. BA in Political Science and Sociology at the University of Basque Country (1999), MA in Public Management at the Pompeu Fabra University, Autonomous University of Barcelona and ESADE (2003), DEA in Political Science at the University of Barcelona (2003) and PhD in Law at the University of Barcelona (2012). His research areas include local government law, sub-municipal government, interregional cooperation, science organisation, algorithmic transparency and civil service law.

Judith Castro-Carranza is responsible for Tenders at Global Media & Entertainment. BA in Law at the Autonomous University of Barcelona, MA in Access to the Legal Profession at the Complutense University of Madrid and High Specialization Diploma in Legal Tech and Digital Transformation at the School of Legal Practice of the Complutense University of Madrid. Her research area focuses on the use of Blockchain in public procurement.