II.1.4. Short description

The aims of the service are:

- To provide a high-quality specialist and screening service in the local community;
- To reduce the steps in the patient pathway where possible, improve access and reduce waiting times;
- To demonstrate a movement in the clinical threshold for accessing services for assessment, diagnosis and treatment from secondary into primary care;
- To address attrition rates from point of referral to treatment, ensuring patients are seen by the most appropriate healthcare professional in the most appropriate setting – patients that may have multiple symptoms should be seen in a general clinic to avoid multiple appointments;
- To develop common pathways of care ensuring there is no unnecessary duplication, and promote the integration and coordination of services across primary care and accredited secondary care providers.
