II.1.4. Short description

The Information Office for Fruit and Vegetables (OFG) have received tenders for a framework agreement for fridges. The contract is for a framework agreement for the procurement of fridges for primary and secondary schools in Norway. Tenderers always have a store of fridges in a central place in South Eastern Norway.

If the government will give free fruit to some primary and secondary schools in the contract period (e.g. secondary schools), this contract will continue to apply, but OFG will then not be able to guarantee that the schools/municipalities choose to procure fridges for the schools with a free government fruit scheme based on this contract. The terms in this contract will then be OFG's offer to the municipalities/schools with a free government fruit scheme.

If the government will give free fruit to all primary and secondary schools in the contract period, and the current subscription scheme ceases to exist, this contract will lapse by the contracting authority giving 3 months notice.
