VI.3. Additional information

In some circumstances trusts may: Framework call-offs: Direct: It is intended that end users of this framework agreement apply the terms (to be confirmed on award). Each lot will be ranked to indicate the most economically advantageous tender as evaluated against the award criteria. In each lot, therefore, the highest scoring bid will be deemed to be the most economically advantageous tender and therefore be the first supplier to be contacted for this lot (please see tender documentation for details). In acknowledgement of the fact that the circumstances of a call-off may differ from that of the award of this framework in certain very specific cases, the end user may vary the weightings for the award criteria (please see tender documentation for details) Mini-competition: It is intended that end users of this framework agreement conduct mini-competitions [within each lot] in order to contract with a framework supplier. In this case the award criteria stated in the tender documentation will be used, or specific sub-criteria that have been derived from the award criteria at the sole discretion of the end user. It is intended that end users will invite all suppliers within the lot for which they are contracting. Please see tender documentation for more details. In acknowledgement of the fact that the circumstances of a call-off may differ from that of the award of this framework in certain very specific cases, the end user may vary the weightings for the award criteria (please see tender documentation for details).

Although this is registered as 'Health and Social services' this will in fact be treated as a priority Part A service and those rules will apply.
