IT services: consulting, software development, Internet and support. The Transport Direct portal (www.transportdirect.info) provides multi-modal journey planning and associated travel information throughout Great Britain. The portal relies on a number of datasets to support its running, and this contract is for the collation and management of the National public transport access nodes (NaPTAN) database (a database holding details of every bus stop, rail station, airport, ferry terminal and tram/underground station in Great Britain); the National public transport Gazetteer (NPTG) database (a database of places (towns, cities and villages) within Great Britain) and the National coach services database (NCSD – a database of national coach services schedules). The service provider(s) will be responsible for ensuring that the databases are updated regularly with data supplied by local authorities and others, and that the data is made available for use by transport direct, traveline and others. The scope of this work also includes the provision of data quality analysis tools relating to the NaPTAN and NPTG data and public transport schedules. The main contract for the operation and development of the online journey planning transport direct service is managed by an existing supplier. The collation and management of public transport data contractor will be required to work closely with the supplier to ensure the end-to-end provision of service to TD users.

Country: United Kingdom
Telephone: +44 2079448256

VI.3.2. Review procedure

Precise information on deadline(s) for review procedures: The Department for Transport will incorporate a minimum 10 calendar day standstill period at the point information on the award of the contract is communicated to tenderers. This period allows unsuccessful tenderers to seek further debriefing from the contracting authority before the contract is entered into. Applicants have 2 working days from the notification of the award decision to request additional debriefing and that information has to be provided a minimum of 3 working days before the expiry of the standstill period. In the first instance such additional information should be required from the address provided in part 1.1. Following that if the parties still cannot resolve the matter then it should be escalated to the Deputy Director of Procurement, Great Minster House, 76 Marsham Street, London SW1P 4DR, UNITED KINGDOM. If an appeal regarding the award of a contract has not been successfully resolved the Public Contracts Regulations 2006 (SI 2006 No 5) provide for aggrieved parties who have been harmed or are at risk of harm by a breach of the rules to take action in the High Court (England, Wales and Northern Ireland).
