On 31/05/2022 a contract notice was dispatched as part of the EU project H2020 - TIQUE to purchase R&D services from a number of R&D providers in parallel (PCP procurement).

The PCP procurement compared competing alternative solution approaches to address the following challenge: The development and validation of innovative solutions to support healthcare services to provide rapid responses to people with AHF and complex care needs through integrated care.

Main technical challenges: TIQUE challenges the industry, through a PCP process, to create disruptive, technology-enabled, all-in-one, flexible and adaptable solutions to support the delivery of predictive, preventive, personalised and participatory integrated care for patients with AHF.

This PCP is a joint procurement by different procurers across Europe that are all facing the same common challenge and are thus looking for similar solutions.
