responsibility to suppliers as well as provide lower and more predictable cost. In this context, an operating lease is considered to be an appropriate means of achieving 1 or more of the above objectives.

Operational leasing of ICT equipment is considered by SP to be relevant for peripherals. This type of equipment is similar to the off the shelf standard, where it is possible to find well developed second hand markets Furthermore there is quick technological development in this area, whereby operational leasing will provide the possibility to scale as required, as well as the possibility to update IT equipment on a regular basis so that the benefits of the latest technology can be ensured.
