Criterion:

Type: Price

Name: Price - 60 percentage points

Description: The contracting authority will give each tenderer a score between 0-10. For the award criteria price, the lowest offered price will give the highest number of points, and the remaining tenders will be given points relatively based on the lowest sum. The points per supplier will then be multiplied by the award criteria weighting, which results in the final score per supplier for the award criteria. The price model in the competition and contract period is the tenderer's purchase price + the tenderer's fixed mark-up in the contract period = price to the contracting authority. The procurement price for client equipment (PCs, laptops, Chromebooks) shall be the procurement price from the client manufacturer. Tenderers shall be able to document a purchase price from the manufacturer. The contracting authority shall, upon request, have the right to receive the tenderer's procurement price free of charge for client equipment from the manufacturer for sample checks during the competition and contract period. If the tenderer will offer clients in the contract period that are purchased by clients other than the client manufacturer, this shall be clarified with the contracting authority with information on the tender price before the procurement is made. If a tenderer uses the distributor, any costs thereof shall be included in the tenderer's offered fixed mark-up.

Category of award weight criterion: Weight (points, exact)

Award criterion number: 1

Criterion:

Type: Quality

Name: Quality - 40 percentage points

Description: The contracting authority will give tenderers a score between 0-10, with the best response being 10 points. The remaining tenderers will be ranked based on a judgemental assessment of the qualitative distance from the best response. The assessment of the specifications is based on the contracting authority's needs description stated in Annex 6 - Needs Description Units and a judgemental assessment of the offered units' specification given by the tenderer in Annex 7 - Offered Units Specifications.
