II.1.5. Short description of the contract or purchase(s)

Fire doors. Efficiency East Midlands has a requirement for the supply of fire door sets. During the course of the Framework we will be looking for Suppliers to carry out the following:

- Surveys on site to ascertain the size and type of door sets required,
- Manufacture and delivery to site of the door sets,
- Manufacture, delivery and installation to site of the door sets,
- Manufacture and delivery to stores of the door sets.

Door frames are predominantly ex 50 x 150. The majority of exterior doors have a cill or threshold in hardwood and a large amount of door sets have over panels either glazed or solid, a number of doors may be a laminated finish and not paint grade. All door sets are prehung on lift off hinges not standard butt hinges

The requirements for Members will vary depending on their individual working practices and in-house resources. To cover all requirements this tender opportunity has been split into two lots:

Lot 1 – Manufacture, Supply and Installation of fire door sets,

Lot 2 – Manufacture and Supply Only of fire door sets.

The majority of fire door sets will be installed within occupied domestic properties, either in communal areas or within individual dwellings such as flats, bungalows and 3 storey properties in rooms where there is a potential source of fire, such as kitchens and living rooms, etc. There may also be a requirement for installation within void properties; the majority of installations will be for domestic properties: however, Efficiency East Midlands have a number of corporate members who may wish to use the Framework for fire door sets within corporate buildings.

While the majority of fire door sets will be standard size FD30 and FD60, there may be a requirement for bespoke size doors at which point members will request a separate quotation.

Information about lots

Lot No: 1

Lot title: Manufacture, Supply and Installation of Fire Door Sets

1) Short description

This Lot is for use by Members who have no or limited in-house resources to install fire door sets and who require Suppliers to undertake surveys, manufacture and supply and install fire doors sets. Works will be carried out in both occupied and void properties.

Occupied Properties

At point of order the Member will provide the address and contact details for the property and a specified completion date for the works.

For occupied properties the Supplier is to assume that no appointment will be made by the Member prior to an order being placed. Therefore it will be the Suppliers responsibility to make contact with the Tenant to arrange the initial appointment for measuring and determining the type of door required and the second appointment to install the fire door. (Please see below for standard access procedures). All appointments and works must be completed within the minimum timescales set out below in Part B5

Upon completion of all works the Supplier must notify the Member of the works completed. Each member may have a different requirement for the format of these communications but the default will be via email unless instructed otherwise.

Void Properties

All fire door installations to void properties must be done before the handover day to the new Tenant. At point of order the Member will provide a specified completion date for the works. Members void security arrangements may vary but the Supplier will be required to either collect and return keys from a nominated office or meet the security company or the Member's responsible Officer to gain access to the property for the initial measure and again for the installation.
