Nordhordland Utviklingssselskapet IKS (NUI) invites tenderers to an open tender contest for a contract for an engineering design group for a new health centre in accordance with the Public Procurements Act.

The engineering design group shall consist of a consultant engineer construction (RIB), consultant engineer building physics (RIBFy), consultant engineer geology and geotechniques (RIG), consultant engineer HVAC (RIV), consultant engineer electro (RIE), consultant engineer communication (RISAM), consultant engineer water and sewage (RIVA).

RNHI shall construct a new health centre in Knarvik for the population in the nine owner municipalities; Austrheim, Fedje, Gulen, Lindås, Masfjorden, Meland, Modalen, Osterøy, Radøy.

The health centre shall be realised through a cooperation between RNHI and the nine owner municipalities and Helse Bergen HF.

The health centre is not a hospital, but the centre will include various health services, both at primary and specialist health service level, and it shall include services connected to 24 hour treatment, outpatients and ambulant services, as well as management and administration.

The collaboration reform has been approved and several assignments shall be transferred from hospitals to municipalities. The health centre shall consolidate and strengthen the existing good professional environment and service offer by developing new collaboration forms and interfaces between them.

The project shall realise basic values stipulated in approved collaboration agreements between the actors. The planning, design, construction, service development and further operation of the health centre shall realise this through:

- Having the user/patient perspective as central
- Positive attitudes and culture
- Dialogue
- Equality

The builder is committed to getting a flexible building as regards the future and synergies and interaction connected to the co-localisation are important.

The disciplines included in this contract are consultant engineer construction (RIB), consultant engineer HVAC (RIV), consultant engineer electro (RIE). The builder has contracted an architect (ARK), landscape architect (LARK), interior architect (IARK), fire consultant (RIBR) and acoustics consultant (RIAKU).

The project shall be carried out as a turnkey contract. The architect and sub consultants will be transported to the turnkey contractor. The engineering design group (RIB, RIV and RIE) shall be exempt.
