II.1.4. Information about framework agreement

II.1.5. Short description of the contract or purchase(s)

In connection with the move to new premises, the Bergen Academy of Art and Design would like to launch a new internet site and facilitate a modern, user friendly and future orientated system for users. The internet site shall be bilingual, Norwegian and English.

KHiB is an experimental learning and working environment for creative activities that are internationally orientated with professional employees who have general international practices, as well as a number of international guest teachers. The new internet website shall reflect the core activity of KHiB and it will be the most important channel for finding out information on KHiB.

The internet site shall facilitate activities and projects managed the Bergen Academy of Art and Design.

As many of the projects have a visual character, quick and intuitive pages are required that use the latest internet technology for showing pictures, sound and films.

The internet site shall have a responsive design that uses the various digital screens, desk top computers, tablets and mobiles in an optimal way for different media. Furthermore, the internet site requires a certain degree of integration with third party systems.

The target group for the internet site is primarily external users, with particular emphasis on potential students and professional artists within the disciplines art and design. Other target groups are decision makers within culture and society, national and international collaboration partners, the general public, students and professional employees.

II.2. Scope of the procurement

II.2.1. Total quantity or scope

The procurement is for a contract for preparing and launching a new internet site for KHiB as well as a contract for the operation and maintenance of it. All contracts will be signed with the same tenderer, and the government's standard contracts (SSA) will be used.

The contract will include, amongst other things:

- A new publication tools (CMS) with the accompanying licences
- Design of the new internet site
  - a) Concept for navigation and menus
  - b) Development of information architecture and interaction design
  - c) Development/adaptation of viewing templates
  - d) Adaptation of publication interface if needed
- Migration of content from the current site
- Training in using the system

KHiB would like a modern, flexible and stable publication tool that has solid references. We would like to use basic functionality as much as possible and not have a lot of special developments.

A competition was held in spring 2015 for a visual profile for KHiB, which was awarded to Uniform AS. The new visual profile is expected to be completed in February 2016 and this will form the basis for the internet site's visual design.

The work on the internet site has a tentative start-up January 2016, with the launching of the new internet site expected in spring 2017. Contract for the operation and maintenance for 4 years from the date the new internet site is completed, with an option for an extension for a further 1 + 1 + 1 + 1 year.
