Options:

Description of the options: Ground surveys sea: The contracting authority would primarily like (as described above) that the expansion of the Shipyard Bridge shall not entail new foundations in the River Nidelva. The findings in the main assignment will determine whether there is a need to trigger the option for ground surveys in the sea. The need for geotechnical assessments and surveys in the sea/channel in the relevant area must be clarified, as the main focus is on foundation conditions and stability for existing and future constructions. Geotechnical engineers must assess whether the existing data basis (previous ground surveys) is sufficient.
