The Police and Crime Commissioner is committed to equality and diversity in its service provision and will ensure compliance with all legislation covering anti-discrimination and assess suppliers' and service providers' commitment to these aims and values.

The Race Relations Act 1976, as amended by the Race Relations (Amendment) Act 2000, places a statutory duty on local authorities to promote race equality. This means that local authorities in carrying out their various functions must "have due regard to the need to eliminate unlawful racial discrimination and to promote equality of opportunity and good relations between persons of different racial groups".

Economic operators will be asked to provide copies of policies they have in place to demonstrate their commitment to equal opportunities in respect of sex, age, race, disability, sexual orientation, religion and belief. Economic operators will also be expected to evidence and demonstrate how they will apply, promote, manage and monitor compliance with their policies whilst providing goods/works/services to the Police and Crime Commissioner.

Economic operators will also be required to demonstrate how they check and monitor equal opportunities when using third parties/sub-contractors (if applicable).

Potential suppliers should note that the Contracting Authority reserves the right to cancel this procurement at any stage and not to award the contract. Any expenditure, work or effort undertaken prior to contract award is accordingly a matter solely for the commercial judgment of potential suppliers.

Please note that no volume or value of orders will be guaranteed in respect of this contract.
