now end of life, have been developed and/or implemented separately within each force with little or no system integration. It aims to deliver IT enabled business change with the delivery of improved services and outcomes through greater efficiency, improved quality of information and integrated end to end business processes. The programme of work will have a focus on the convergence and rationalisation of IT Infrastructure, however will enable the business areas of Criminal Justice and Crime Investigation to review and potentially redesign how business is undertaken providing further opportunities and potential savings.
