The work involves, amongst other things, particle measuring in classified cleanrooms, integrity testing of roof filters, control of UFD, safety benches and insulators, measuring and revalidation of clean room ventilation.

- It is also important that the work is carried out during as short a period as possible. In some locations the controls must be carried out in rooms without staff, i.e., 'at rest'.
- All documentation must be suitable for external review and it must be available quickly after the assignment.
- It is also important that the work is carried out during as short a period as possible.
