Title: 25/02547 Hire of an oceangoing vessel for trawling for wild salmon mole in Trøndelag-Nordland - 2026

Description: The Norwegian Institute of Marine Research (the contracting authority) would like to hire an oceangoing vessel for trawling for wild salmon moles in the Trøndelag sea area to Nordland for 14 days in 2026, with an option for an extra 7 days in 2026.

Procedure identifier: e8f95c91-3345-4284-9260-5a8fbf4280f3

Previous notice: f875e717-2924-4a55-9224-6cfac90b0be5-01

Internal identifier: 25/02546

Type of procedure: Open

The procedure is accelerated: no

Main features of the procedure: The contracting authority would like to use the vessel for trawling for wild salmon mole in connection with the monitoring of salmon lice infestation on wild salmon fish along the Norwegian coast. Trawling shall be carried out in selected sea areas for a period of two weeks with 24 hour operation as long as the conditions are right for it. Subject to the necessary permits being given to the Norwegian Institute of Marine Research, the contract will last from the first day Monday to and including the last day Sunday in the above mentioned period of time. 2 weeks for the year 2026 and possibly week three, if an option for a contract extension is utilised. The area of the trawling is in the above mentioned surgical area, but specific zones for daily/weekly activity will be decided by a project group in consultation with the expedition manager and captain. The departure port will be in the surgical area. The vessel and crew must be able to handle 140 MTR smol trawls with a fishlift system, see the drawing trawl rig, annex 3. Delivery place for trawl rigs and equipment agreed with the vessel manager. The delivery place must have access for a lorry. Tenderers must use the premises for proper storage of trawling tools in the contract period. The vessel shall initially be used for trawling wild salmon mole, but other sampling in connection with the Contracting Authority's activities can be imposed on the vessel during the hire period, this can apply to water samples and hydrography. O.L Work time is set for 24 hour operation. (Security guard scheme 6+6, 12+12 or 8+4, agreed at the start). Shipowners must see to board and accommodation on board. (The expedition contract only applies to employees of the Contracting Authority, or hired expedition manager). The crew of the vessel shall follow instructions and carry out the work assignments, including rigging of tools and equipment, sample taking and marking, which the expedition leader or persons he authorised give, as far as it is compatible with the operation of the vessel. The contracting authority reserves the right to inspect the vessel and check the relevant documentation before the start of the expedition. For calculating normal consumption of bunkers per day, it is assumed that 24 hours a working day is used every 24 hours, divided in estimated use: Trawling speed 3 knots. The contracting authority shall have the right to participate with an extra expedition participant/researcher on day expeditions for advice and guidance in the work on counting and reporting the salmon lice occurrence. This applies to both the contracting authority and the shipowner's crew who shall carry out the work. The number of representatives from the contracting authority will be at least 2 persons. If possible, we would like a total of 4 persons. There must be space and safety equipment for at least four research personnel in addition to crew. Bunkers shall be included in the stated 24 hour rate. Cost money shall be included in the hire amount. Cleaning of common areas during the cruise will be carried out by crews. The expedition will be carried out in accordance with the Contracting Authority's plan and management. The captain shall instruct the crew that they shall comply with instructions and carry out the work assignments, including rigging of tools and equipment, which the expedition leader or authorised person can give, as far as it is compatible with the operation of the vessel. It is the captain who is responsible for ensuring that the work on board is carried out in a safe way and is responsible for the safety on board and it is a prerequisite that he and the crew find the work properly to carry out. Due to competition over the Christmas period, questions may only be answered after Christmas. The contracting authority reserves the right to postpone the tender deadline if a reasoned request from the tenderer(s) is submitted.
