Direct award

Justification for direct award: The contract can be provided only by a particular economic operator because of exclusive rights, including intellectual property rights

Other justification: As part of the implementation of a new Financial Management System in 2002, Dublin City Council acquired licences from Oracle EMEA Limited through a contract with its implementation partner, Fujitsu Services Limited, to cover the use of Oracle software, including Oracle eBusiness Suite (Financials) and Oracle Customer Relationship Management, used throughout the organisation. Following the go-live in 2004, payments have been made directly to Oracle EMEA Limited for the support and maintenance required for these products and to allow upgrades to the latest product versions at no additional cost. Dublin City Council's engagement with Oracle products has been established over a prolonged period and forms a core component of the organisation's corporate and operational systems landscape. Oracle software underpins critical financial and business processes across the Council, including the Oracle eBusiness Suite (EBS) Financials platform and associated integrated modules. These systems have been configured and extended over time to meet Dublin City Council's specific statutory, financial and operational requirements and are deeply embedded within Council workflows, reporting structures and integrations with other internal and external systems. The original acquisition of Oracle licence and subsequent incremental purchases were made to ensure continuity of service, platform stability and vendor-supported upgrades in line with organisational needs and regulatory requirements. Ongoing support and maintenance from Oracle EMEA Limited is essential to ensure security patching, compliance, access to product updates and vendor backed technical support for these business-critical systems. Due to Oracle's proprietary licencing model and the tightly integrated nature of the existing Oracle estate, support and maintenance services can only be provided by Oracle EMEA Limited.
