2. Procedure

2.1. Procedure

Title: ENQEIR880 – Ground Investigation Services

Description: EirGrid has a requirement for the provision of a range of specialised ground investigation services, resources and geotechnical consultancy advice, relevant studies or reports from a strategic partner(s) and intends to utilise, as necessary, a flexible 3rd party resourcing model. The provision of services and allocation of resources shall be outlined for each assignment in order to best meet EirGrid's requirement. Ground investigations may be required at different project stages to, among other purposes, determine project design parameters and to validate assumptions made in feasibility studies. The investigations may vary in nature and include invasive and/ or non-invasive ground investigation services and successful applicants will be required to provide all relevant reporting on health and safety functions.
