Includes the collection of commercial waste cleaned from stations, trains, retail catering outlets and depots, hazardous waste (including oil interceptor waste, fluorescent tubes and batteries), high value recycling waste from engineering activities and the dry co-mingled recyclables which have been segregated at source.

ECML has made an environmental commitment to apply the principles of the Waste Hierarchy - and will therefore prefer waste reduction and recycling before considering disposal via 'energy from waste' or incineration; we aim to send ZERO waste to landfill by the end of our franchise in 2015.

Environmental compliance is an essential part of your service offering to us - you will be able to demonstrate high demonstrable levels of performance in this respect for your own operation and will be expected to support our own processes in respect of the legal Duty of Care for wastes.

ECML is committed to working with its service partners, retail tenants and colleagues to reduce waste and support source segregation - we require accurate performance statistics (on a railway Period basis) to measure the effectiveness of our waste minimisation and recycling strategies.
