II.1.4. Short description

It is vital at eFormidling is a secure digital channel for exchanging messages. Two significant changes were made to the system in 2019.

An assignment is announced in order to uncover any security weaknesses in eFormidling.

In order to get an overview of vulnerabilities and secure the system against those that are most serious, Difi would like to procure services within penetration testing and vulnerability analyses. The security test will be split into 2 phases.

See Annex 1 for further details on the assignment.

The tender must include:

- an account of how the assignment will be solved,
- an overview of the offered consultant/consultants, and what each individual will contribute,
- a schedule/resource plan for how the consultant/consultants can be used,
- CVs for the consultant/consultants,
- a description of any previous experience with similar assignments,
- a tender letter.
