Information about review deadlines: The appeal bodies are set out in Article 24 of the Act of 17 June 2013 concerning the motivation, information and remedies in relation to public procurement, certain works, supply and service contracts, and concessions. The procedure for lodging an appeal is set out, in particular, in Articles 14 and 15 of the said Act. Article 14 concerns the right to lodge an appeal for annulment before the appeal body. Article 15 concerns the right to lodge an appeal for suspension before the appeal body. An ordinary court may also have jurisdiction if damages are claimed in accordance with Article 16 of the said Act. The time limits for bringing appeals are set out in Article 23 of the said Act. This article states, amongst other things, that an action for annulment must be brought within sixty days and that the time limit for an application for a stay of execution is fifteen days. It is advisable to notify the contracting authority as soon as possible by fax, email or other electronic means if you decide to lodge an application for interim relief. If the contracting authority is an administrative body within the meaning of the Coordinated Laws on the Council of State: The application for a suspension or annulment must be submitted either electronically or by registered post in accordance with the rules of procedure set out in the law and the regulations governing the organisation of the Council of State. Further information on the rules of procedure can be found on the following website: <https://raadvanstate.be/?page=index&lang=en> This communication is to be regarded solely as a simple communication within the meaning of the Act of 17 June 2013 and, where applicable, within the meaning of Article 19 of the Coordinated Laws on the Council of State.
