The National Library of Norway hereby invites to a restricted tender contest for security guard services for the Library's premises in Oslo and Mo i Rana. The National Library of Norway's premises are approx. 20,000 m² in Rana and approx. 22,000 m² in Oslo.

In Rana there is especially a need for mobile security guard services, but in particular circumstances there can be a need to order stationary security guard services for shorter periods in connection with, for example, events or escorting services.

In Oslo there is a need for both mobile and stationary security guard services. The National Library of Norway is in a phase of change with a strong increase in the number of exhibitions and events in the premises in Oslo, and the tenderers must thus be prepared that certain changes in the need will take place. In Oslo the buildings are a main building with associated storage buildings. In Mo i Rana the buildings consist of a main building and associated storage buildings. In addition we also have five external warehouses.
