Future RTPPI Displays will interface with an existing RTPPI back office system via a single board computer, thus the focus of this procurement is on the supply of interoperable RTPPI Displays only and does not include supply of back office systems, installation or maintenance activities.

Further to LED RTPPI Displays, the NTA is also looking to purchase TFT Bus Stop Displays, subject to demonstration of their ability to operate outside and a number of TFT Displays of varying sizes to replace existing displays in foyers and external locations, should they need to be replaced within the life of the Contract. To ensure interoperability, these TFT Displays will interface with an existing back office via a thin client computer.

There will also be a need to supply a limited number of other RTPPI Display types for research purposes.

For the purpose of interoperability, all Future RTPPI Displays purchased will be installed and maintained by an existing NTA contract service provider.
