2.1.4. Eolas ginearálta

Eolas breise: The nature of the procurement is the provision of outpatient radiological services, which involve diagnostic examinations and a health assessment of patients with the help of image diagnostics. The central element in this type of procurement is the medical competence and assessment that is provided by radiologists and other qualified health personnel, in combination with the use of medical-technical equipment as a support tool in diagnostics. This is, thus, a service where the central input factor is the human resources and the health expertise. On this background, it is the contracting authority's assessment that this is a service that is mainly related to patient treatment and medical assessment, and where the climate footprint and the impact on the environment are considerably limited. Any environmental impacts are mainly related to already established infrastructures and medical equipment that are necessary to provide reliable health services. On this background, it is the Contracting Authority's assessment that this is a service that, in its nature, will only have an immaterial climate footprint and environmental impact, so that the Contracting Authority is not obliged to set climate and environment criteria or climate and environmental requirements in the requirement specifications, cf. the regulations § 7-9 (5).
