Opis: The procurement focuses on maintenance, repairs and redesign of existing furniture that the municipality already has rather than buying new furniture. The contract itself has, thus, a reduced environmental footprint. It is a procurement of services, where the majority of the procurement concerns the purchase of trade services. Transport and material use are among the factors that are climate resilient in such a procurement. In order to reduce the climate impact from transport, there will be a minimum requirement for the use of zero emission vehicles. Furthermore, there are several minimum requirements that shall ensure good quality, reduce the environmental impact and materials with the content of health and environmentally damaging chemicals. When using materials, there are different requirements that shall reduce the climate footprint connected to the production of the materials. The minimum requirements are designed to reduce the climate impact of the procurement. The procurement has some product elements, such as, for example, the need for extra parts, textiles etc. for repairs of furniture. The furniture has a large extent of use and it is therefore important that specific minimum requirements are set for textiles and material use in order to ensure a long lifetime. Textiles are required, among other things, to be environmentally friendly and tolerate easy cleaning. There is also a requirement that furniture and fixtures and parts of furniture and fixtures that cannot be repaired, renovated or redesigned shall be reused for other purposes or sorted and recycled to the highest possible degree. The minimum requirements are designed so that they are directed directly towards the factors that are climate saving in the procurement, and it is anticipated to have a better effect than if climate and environmental considerations should only be emphasised through award criteria. The use of the minimum requirements will be seen as particularly appropriate for these types of contracts where the supplier market is small and immature. The contracting authority has therefore assessed that the requirements in the requirement specifications will give a better climate and environmental effect than setting award criteria. The contracting authority will, based on the above, use the exclusion provisions in the Procurement Act § 5b.

5.1. Sklop: LOT-0003

Naslov: Sub-contract 3 Redesign of furniture and fixtures

Opis: Sub-contract 3 shall include services for redesign of furniture and fixtures. Redesign involves giving a new look or new function to existing furniture and fixtures. In Oslo municipality's entities there are furniture and fixtures that have either played out their need, or for which there is no longer a need in its current condition. It is therefore desirable to redesign relevant furniture and fixtures for products that cover new or other needs. Tenderers must both be able to design and design a solution proposal, carry out the work and have final responsibility for the delivered product.

Opis: The procurement focuses on maintenance, repairs and redesign of existing furniture that the municipality already has rather than buying new furniture. The contract itself has, thus, a reduced environmental footprint. It is a procurement of services, where the majority of the procurement concerns the purchase of trade services. Transport and material use are among the factors that are climate resilient in such a procurement. In order to reduce the climate impact from transport, there will be a minimum requirement for the use of zero emission vehicles. Furthermore, there are several minimum requirements that shall ensure good quality, reduce the environmental impact and materials with the content of health and environmentally damaging chemicals. When using materials, there are different requirements that shall reduce the climate footprint connected to the production of the materials. The minimum requirements are designed to reduce the climate impact of the procurement. The procurement has some product elements, such as, for example, the need for extra parts, textiles etc. for repairs of furniture. The furniture has a large extent of use and it is therefore important that specific minimum requirements are set for textiles and material use in order to ensure a long lifetime. Textiles are required, among other things, to be environmentally friendly and tolerate easy cleaning. There is also a requirement that furniture and fixtures and parts of furniture and fixtures that cannot be repaired, renovated or redesigned shall be reused for other purposes or sorted and recycled to the highest possible degree. The minimum requirements are designed so that they are directed directly towards the factors that are climate saving in the procurement, and it is anticipated to have a better effect than if climate and environmental considerations should only be emphasised through award criteria. The use of the minimum requirements will be seen as particularly appropriate for these types of contracts where the supplier market is small and immature. The contracting authority has therefore assessed that the requirements in the requirement specifications will give a better climate and environmental effect than setting award criteria. The contracting authority will, based on the above, use the exclusion provisions in the Procurement Act § 5b.
